Profile

I see myself as a versatile, enthusiastic individual with the willingness to learn new things because of my objective is to excel in my career while being a socially citizen. As a second-year student in Information Technology, currently I am looking for an opportunity to work as a software developer which can help me to come up with innovative programming solutions to meet operational requirements. I am seeking a community focusing opportunity where I can do the success. Also, to become a successful software developer, I am aiming to utilize my strong prioritisation skills and analytical ability to achieve organizational goals.
